31/01/2024

- With the opening of the Hexagon Cup, Alpine announces the nine players selected in its padel team for the 2024 season, featuring some of the best in the world, including world number 1 Arturo Coello.
- This investment is part of Alpine's strategy to expand internationally by supporting the rising sport of padel. This discipline shares the brand's core values of sporting performance, light weight and agility.
- The "A-padel" team will compete in the inaugural Hexagon Cup, a unique mixed tournament that runs until 4 February 2024 at the Madrid Arena (Spain).

Alpine announces the selection of its mixed "A-padel" team, consisting of nine athletes ranked at the highest level of world padel, who will represent Alpine during the 2024 season. The players will proudly wear the A logo on their shirts during the Hexagon Cup and the international Premier Padel season.

The "A-padel" team includes world number 1 Arturo Coello and other stars of the sport, such as Alexandra Salazar and her team-mate Tamara Icardo, Martin di Nenno, Alex Ruiz and Luciano Capra. The young, promising and talented Alejandra Alonso de Villa and Claudia Fernandez are also members of this team of Alpine Ambassadors. These eight new players join Sanyo Guterrez, already under contract with Alpine from 2023.

They will alternate their appearances between the padel courts and the Alpine stand during the Hexagon Cup at the Madrid Arena (Spain).

"I'm delighted to announce our team today and to build a long term relationship that is going beyond their own performance. Our "A-padel" team is composed of talented and passionate women and men who are generous and accessible to their fans, which are essential criteria for our brand. We at Alpine are very proud to support this new generation of players and to invest in accelerating the international development of padel. I can't wait to start this collaboration to encourage this exceptional team!" explains Antonino Labate, VP, Sales, Marketing & Customer Experience Alpine.

"It is a pleasure to be part of the Alpine padel team. With Alpine we share the same ambition and the same values: performance, lightness, and agility. Together we will push the growth of Padel on a global level inspiring new generation," says Arturo Coello.

"I'm thrilled to start building our story with the Alpine padel team. Beyond performance and pushing boundaries, we both embrace values of inclusivity and aspire to elevate our sport to new heights while keeping the fans at the core of everything we do," says Alejandra Salazar.

Following its partnership in 2023 with Greenweez Paris Major, Alpine continues to reinforce its commitment to a dynamic, spectacular, and popular sport that echoes the brand's DNA. As a sponsor of an innovative tournament, Alpine will benefit from numerous promotions and high visibility within the Madrid Arena with its logo on the nets and sides of the main courts. The Alpine A290_β show car, and a stand dedicated to the brand will welcome the public on-site.

The nine players in the Alpine "A-padel" team

Arturo Coello

A native of Valladolid, Arturo Coello debuted in the sport in 2015. Although he began competing in 2022 alongside the sport's legendary Fernando Belasteguín, the Spaniard became world number one at 21 in 2023, becoming the youngest player in history to reach the top spot.
